I apologize for not writing a review for this. I've had this for about a year, and it's the closest thing you'll have to a controllable dream. Music is absolutely amazing, and it changes with your flight and speed. Favourite activity was to just hurl around asteroids, but there's a lot more you can do. Flying is fun, and every object in the game has different physics to them. There's a demo, or free version, also, so try it out.
